mentorship, and support to the Board and the management of Afcons as and when necessary.

"This also reaffirms and ensures that Afcons continues to be a truly professionally managed organisation," Afcons Infrastructure said in a statement.

The statement said the board acknowledged Shaporji Mistry's pivotal role played in Afcons' growth trajectory between FY2012 and FY2025, wherein the turnover grew nearly fivefold to ₹13,023 crore, Ebitda rose at a CAGR of over 14.5%, and the order book expanded more than fivefold to ₹36,869 crore.

According to the statement, Pallon S. Mistry will now represent the next generation of Shaporji Pallonji family, to the Board of Afcons Infrastructure.

"His close engagement with the Board will strengthen the alignment of Afcons' long-term growth with the vision of the Shaporji Pallonji Group," it said.

The statement said this step ensures continued deeper involvement of Shaporji Pallonji Group in shaping Afcons' future, while preserving the professional independence of its leadership.

Krishnamurthy Subramanian, current executive vice chairman of Afcons, has been elevated as the executive chairman of Afcons. Subramanian has been with Afcons for over 22 years, leading the company in various roles earlier from managing director and later as vice chairman & managing director for 15 years. Under Subramanian's leadership, Afcons has executed several marquee projects globally, such as Chenab Railway Bridge in J&K, Atal Tunnel, in Himachal Pradesh, India's first underwater tunnel for Kolkata Metro, Sohar Jetty in Oman and New Owendu International Port at Gabon, among others.
